Response to University Pressure

According to a news release from the Canadian Association of University Teachers (CAUT), pressure from CAUT and the Canadian Library Association has reversed a federal government proposal to restrict free distribution of government publications to Canadian libraries.

In an announcement on 8 February, the Minister of Supply and Services, Pierre de Bané said that none of the 586 public and educational institution libraries in Canada will be adversely affected by cutbacks. Originally de Bané had planned to reduce by over half the number of Canadian libraries now receiving government publications free of charge, with a particularly heavy cut in the university sector. However, a strong reaction from CAUT and the Canadian library community led the Minister to reassess his position on depository libraries.

In his 8 February announcement, however, de Bané said that free ordering privileges would be withdrawn from those organizations able to purchase publications from their own resources, including federal government departments, special interest groups, and senior public servants.

The CAUT has applauded the decision to exempt depository libraries from the cutbacks. According to Donald C. Savage, CAUT Executive Secretary, the episode demonstrates the need for vigorous lobbying of governments to defend the interests of the universities. □

Coal Mining Research Centre

The growing importance of coal mining in Alberta is reflected in the establishment of the Coal Mining Research Centre, a facility which will be developing strong ties with this University during the next two years.

The Centre, which is located in temporary quarters just east of Windsor Car Park, opened on 22 January and will remain there until the spring of 1981 when it will move to a permanent building in Devon. Until that time, the Centre's six-member staff will make full use of a number of University offices, including the Departments of Mineral, Civil and Mechanical Engineering and Geology. According to Dr. Ken Barron, manager of the Centre, "mining is an interdisciplinary activity. Our location is very advantageous in that, should we need particular expertise on a matter, we can invariably find an expert within a radius of a quarter of a mile who is happy to oblige."

The Centre also has access to computer and library facilities, the machine shop and janitorial services, all at normal rates. In the symbiotic arrangement, the Centre intends to offer seminars and employ one or two students during the summer.

The Centre is a private, non-profit company which is funded through the Alberta-Canada Energy Resources Research Fund. Its broad terms of reference are to carry out applied research aimed at improving coal mining technology, upgrading the preparation of coal for market, and fully investigating the health and safety aspects of the industry.

Dr. Barron reports that the Centre has made a favorable start on the mining technology phase; however, the research into coal preparation is not yet underway. The Centre will not be setting up a health and safety division until the Devon move is effected.

According to Dr. Barron, the Centre is now contracting certain projects out to consultants and University personnel and is open to unsolicited proposals which may be acted on if they relate to priorities set down by the Centre's Technical Advisory Committee.

The magnitude of the Centre's role in the shaping of Alberta's future is evident in Dr. Barron's statement that coal resources equal the energy potential of the province's conventional oil reserves, natural gas, tar sands and heavy oil combined.

"There is a great need to develop coal technology now in preparation for the voracious energy needs of the next century," Dr. Barron stresses. Such technology would pertain to metallurgical coal, an export commodity used mainly in the steel industry in Japan, and thermal coal which is currently used for electrical power generation and has great potential for conversion into liquid and gaseous fuels. While ninety-nine percent of Alberta's thermal coal is obtained by surface mining methods, future demands will require the development of efficient and productive underground mining systems.

Dr. Barron foresees considerable development of export coal markets, particularly in Western Europe, and that CMRC research will contribute to this development through improved productivity and costs allowing the industry to maintain and improve its competitive position.

Dr. Barron is a physicist and a graduate of the University of London. He was with the UK National Coal Board for two years, working on instrumentation for mining purposes. During the 1960s he worked for Canada's Department of Energy, Mines and Resources and later started the Western Office of Mining Research Laboratories in Calgary. He has also spent time studying coal mining operations in South Africa and France.

The Coal Mining Research Centre contains 2,400 square feet of space which is divided into offices, a conference room and a laboratory.

The members of the Centre and their representatives who are directors are as follows: The Research Council of Alberta, represented by G. Cloutier; the Department of Energy and Natural Resources, represented by L. Hurd; the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, represented by D.F. Coates; the Energy Resources Conservation Board, represented by G. Govier who is also Vice-President of the Centre; the Coal Association of Canada, represented by G. Page who is president of the Centre; The University of Alberta, represented by P. Adams, Dean of the Faculty of Engineering; and The University of Calgary, represented by T. Barton.

Other directors and their affiliations are: G.D. Coates, Luscar Coal Ltd.; W. Riva, Kaiser Resources Ltd.; D. Downing, Gulf Canada Resources Inc.; N. Berkowitz, Energy Resources Conservation Board and Alberta Research Council; P. Demcoe, ex officio, Chairman of the Technical Advisory Committee; and Dr. Barron, ex officio, Manager of the Centre. The non-voting secretary is B. Ettles, Coal Association of Canada. □

Varsity Guest Weekend

Preparations are now well underway for Varsity Guest Weekend 1979. Encouraged by the reception given the annual open house resurrected last year, the Students' Union has ambitious plans for this year's Varsity Guest Weekend scheduled for the 10 and 11 March weekend.

The students report that they are receiving good support. Deans of the University Faculties and the various student associations within the Faculties were contacted directly and the finishing touches are now being put to the numerous displays and special activities planned for the weekend.

Also featured will be displays and presentations organized by the Students' Union clubs. Guest speakers have also been invited to take part in the activities. And for those who wish to participate in an active way: a charity dance marathon from which the proceeds will help combat muscular dystrophy. □

Dentistry Requires Patients

Third and fourth year students in the Faculty of Dentistry have now entered on the clinical treatment portion of their professional training, and patients are required for the students. Parents of children between the ages of four and twelve are invited to contact the Faculty's Department of Dental Clinical Sciences, telephone 432-4448, and make arrangement to have their children's teeth examined. Should dental work be necessary, the students, working under supervision, can perform all aspects of treatment and recommend proper methods of care.

Dr. William Simpson, Chairman of the Department, says that while fees are minimal, patients will likely have to spend a substantial amount of time in the Faculty because of the detailed learning process undertaken by the students.

Apparently many young patients have been treated in past years, but the combination of fluoridation and various dental plans has reduced the number of patients who take advantage of the Faculty's expertise and facilities. Children with dental problems can receive treatment until 30 April. □

Classical Association Meeting

The University will host the second annual meeting of the Classical Association of the Canadian West on 9 and 10 March.

The opening session will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the Provincial Museum Auditorium. Two addresses will be given in relation to the session's theme of Classical Archaeology. Elena Lattanzi, Archaeological Superintendent, Basilicata, Italy, will discuss "The Indigenous Populations of Materno from the Protohistoric to the Classical Age," and J.J. Richter, Faculty of Agriculture and Forestry, University of Alberta, will discuss "Farm Organization and Management in Apulia, Lucania and Bruttium."

A reception and viewing of the archaeological exhibits "Ancient Crossroads" and "Villa Rustica" will be held at 9:30 p.m., also in the Provincial Museum.

Following the Association's general meeting at 9 a.m., 10 March, in 129 Education South, the second session, entitled "Research Topics in Tacitus," will commence. Barry Baldwin, Calgary, will speak on "Juvenal's Crispinus"; Iain McDougall, Winnipeg, will deliver the talk "Tacitus' Portrayal of the Elder Agrippina"; and C.J. Simpson, Edmonton, will be the speaker for "Tacitus and the Praetorian Elections of A.D. 14."

The third session is scheduled for 11 a.m., also in 129 Education South. The theme is "Topics in Classical Literature" and the speakers will be David Campbell, Victoria, "The Cicada in Greek Literature"; J.R. Wilson, Edmonton, "A Ghost Meaning of Kairos"; and Herbert Huxley, Victoria, "Nomen Omen: Some Aspects of the Significant Name, with Particular Reference to Latin Poetry."

The meeting will continue with a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in Lister Hall. The featured speaker for the occasion will be Peter Smith of Victoria whose topic is "Arethusa: Myth and Symbol."

At 2 p.m. a panel discussion on "Classics and Classical Studies in Secondary Education" will unfold. The featured panelist is Dr. P.A. Lamoureux, Associate Director of Curriculum, Province of Alberta. He will be joined on the panel by Gordon Scrimpton, Victoria; Don Hodgson, Public School System, Vancouver; J. Frost, Tempo School, Edmonton; Heino Waehrer, Separate School System, Saskatoon; and Iain McDougall, Winnipeg.

The closing session, "Selected Topics in Archaeology, History and Literature," is scheduled for 3:50 p.m. in 129 Education South. The speakers are: R.E. Egan, Winnipeg, "Vergil and Tragedy: a Critical Synopsis of Recent Work"; M. Gualtieri, Edmonton, "Roccagloriosa and the Western Lucanians"; and E.G. Wilson, Edmonton, "The Descendants of Theodora."

The registration fee is $6 per person. Registration forms are available from R.C. Smith, Department of Classics, 1-19 Humanities Centre. Dr. Smith is also president of the Association.

Funding for the meeting has been granted by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council and the University of Alberta to help defray costs to those on the program. □

University Priorities Committee

Board of Governors

At the regular monthly meeting of the Governors on Friday, 2 February 1979, the responses from the University community to the Final Report of the University Priorities Committee were considered, and the recommendations contained within that report amended according to the concerns expressed and according to the perceptions of the Governors and members of the senior administration present at the meeting. The Board in its deliberations recognized Willard Allen, Associate Vice-President (Academic) who relayed the considerations of the Priorities Committee. The following recommendations were therefore approved. (Please note that the original recommendations of the University Priorities Committee may be found most conveniently in the Folio for 1 February 1979 along with amendments suggested by the General Faculties Council. GFC's suggested wording for Recommendation 7 is given inaccurately in that issue of Folio, but may be found in the issue for 8 February on page 4).

Recommendation 1

- (a) The Board instructs its Finance Committee, in consultation with the University Planning Committee and General Faculties Council, to prepare a formal statement of operating and capital budget principles, policies and mechanisms, on an annual basis, for the consideration of the Board. These should include a detailed policy and mechanisms for the use and control of operating and capital reserves, and of unspent funds remaining at year end.
- (b) The Committee also recommends that the Finance Committee review the budget control mechanisms, and the financial forecasting system of the University.

Recommendation 2

The Board instructs the Vice-Presidents, in conjunction with the appropriate committees of General Faculties Council, to have prepared long-term perspectives on the development of library systems, and the various computing services on campus and to have these reported to the Board through the University Planning Committee.

Recommendation 3

The Board agreed that Salary and Benefits Cost Estimation Models should be developed and maintained as an important tool in the budgetary process, and referred the matter to the Administration for development in consultation with the Finance Committee. [The Board agreed also that staff benefits, and in particular retirement benefits, would be included]

Recommendation 4

The Board agreed that the accounting system be adjusted to report staff benefits according to the same classification systems and referred the matter to the Administration.

Recommendation 5

The Board agreed to refer the following to the Administration for a revised proposal: The Committee recommends that the Board, each year, in consultation with the University Planning Committee, establish clear alternatives with respect to number and type of staff, and possible salary negotiations. As part of this process the Board should monitor the distribution of expenditures among categories of expenditure (salaries and benefits, utilities, other expenditures).

Recommendation 6

The Board agreed that, in consultation with administrators at various levels and other concerned groups, to investigate alternative types and conditions of appointment consistent with the goal of high quality teaching and research with a view to negotiating, at appropriate intervals, changes in staff agreements.

Recommendation 7

The Board agreed, in cooperation

Lethbridge Names President

John Woods of the University of Calgary is to be the next President of the University of Lethbridge. The current President, Bill Beckel, announced his resignation last September, and he will leave on 30 June to become President of Carleton University.

Dr. Woods has been Dean of Humanities at the University of Calgary since July, 1976. He is also a Professor in Calgary's Department of Philosophy. A native of Barrie, Ontario, Dr. Woods obtained his BA and MA from the University of Toronto and his PhD in Philosophy from the University of Michigan. The recipient of numerous awards for scholarly activity, Dr. Woods has been widely published in Canada and the United States. □

tion with General Faculties Council, to undertake a study of the rationale for quotas, criteria to be used in establishing quota size, and the process by which changes in quota size are planned and instituted.

Recommendation 8

The Board agreed to defer for further consideration by the Board the Committee's recommendation that the Board of Governors and General Faculties Council jointly approve in principle a system of reviews of academic programs, academic units, and administrative and service units and further, that responsibility for collecting and coordinating these reviews, and for recommending academic and budgetary priorities be delegated to the University Planning Committee.

The Board agreed to defer consideration of a more extensive system of reviews on the understanding that General Faculties Council will forward its recommendations to the Board. In the meantime, the Board agreed:

- (a) That units within the University be asked to define and review their functions and programs, in a brief general statement, setting out the activities of the unit and the priority order in which they are seen by the unit.

- (b) That the information from reviews carried out by units be considered by UPC from the standpoint of allocating resources.
- (c) That guidelines for reviews carried out by units be prepared by senior administrators, in consultation with a Academic Development Committee and others likely to be concerned.

- (d) That a data base acceptable to the Deans' Council be developed to assist the decision-making process and that the Director of Institutional Research be asked to consult with Faculties and other units in order to arrive at a set of information which will permit a greater degree of comparability across the University.

Recommendation 9

The Board received the Committee's recommendation that a permanent policy of position control be applied to the filling of vacancies which occur among permanent academic positions, and the establishment of any new permanent positions. The policy would be administered by the Vice-President (Academic) under the direction of the University Planning Committee.

The Board agreed to defer consideration of this recommendation until a recommendation is available from General Faculties Council. □

Nominations Invited

The University of Alberta

National Award in Music

Since 1951 the Board of Governors of The University of Alberta has offered National Awards to Canadians who have made distinguished contributions over a period of time to the development of Letters, Music, and Painting and the Related Arts in Canada.

The Award, in the form of a medal, is presented to the recipient at the Gala Banquet on Scholarship and Awards Night at the Banff Centre for Continuing Education early in July.

Originally Awards were offered annually in all three fields. Since 1961, however, the Awards have rotated annually through Music, Letters, and Painting and the Related Arts. The 1979 Award will be in Music.

Interested members of the campus community are invited to suggest possible recipients of the Award by 23 March through Dr. Willard Allen, Associate Vice-President (Academic), the coordinator for the Selection Committee.

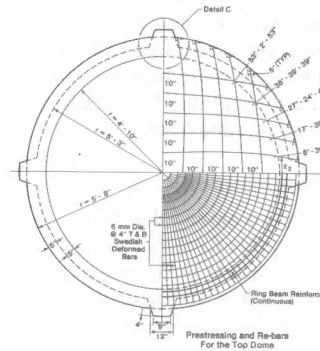

Graphics

Given the size of this University and its need for all types of communication, the range of activities undertaken by the Graphics Division of Technical Services is not surprising. The services the Graphics Division provide can extend from highly technical architectural renderings to free-hand sketches for the illustration of slide presentations. The media they work in range from graphics for television to silk-screening conference logos on T-shirts.

The following list details the kinds of services provided by the Graphics Division. As can be seen from the list of services available, they can be approached to provide specific services or they can be contacted to provide consultation on the graphic requirements of conferences, audio visual materials, presentations, and so forth. For further information, telephone 432-3461.

Services available

8. Permanent and temporary signage and label production by silkscreen and signpress methods, on a variety of materials (paper, cardboard, acetate, vinyl, etc.).
9. Complete conference programs designed and produced including such items as brochures, posters, directional signage, name tags, menus, advertisements, printed binders, and T-shirts.

10. Large dry-mounting facilities for items up to 4 feet x 4 feet as well as plastic laminating in a variety of sizes.
11. Advice and assistance regarding visual instructional materials and graphic standards.

12. Signage—The campus signage program is being coordinated through the Graphics Division in cooperation with Campus Development. Design, production, and installation of temporary, permanent, and safety signage is handled through Graphics. Advice and assistance in setting up signage programs for conferences and other related projects is also available.
13. Graphics for television.

Silkscreening facilities (above, left) and photo-mechanical facilities (below) ensure that Graphic Services has the flexibility to provide the range of services that it does. On any given day the signage an individual might see, or the publications, brochures, or audio visual materials he might encounter could have been provided by Graphic Services.

R.T. Berg, Chairman of the Department of Animal Science, was the recipient of "The Thomas Irvine Memorial Chair." He presented six lectures on animal genetics, growth, and development at the 16th Annual International Stockmen's School in San Antonio, Texas, from 8 to 11 January. Speakers were drawn from six countries, and about 400 cattlemen and people related to the industry attended.

Herman Tennesen, Professor of Philosophy and member of the Executive Committee of the Council of Inter-University Centre of Postgraduate Studies, Dubrovnik, will represent the University at the Council Meeting to be held on 5 and 6 May to work out the Academic Program for 1979-80. Anyone interested in participating in future programs should contact Professor Tennesen, telephone 432-3563, before 3 May. Professor Tennesen will also contribute to the Centre Program: "Sociology and the Structure of Fiction." He has also been invited to lecture at the Universities of Oslo, Stockholm, Trondheim, and Odense, in May, June, and August.

Harry Wohlfarth, Professor in the Department of Extension, has been elected to a second five-year term on the Board of Directors of the International Academy Leonardo da Vinci in Rome, Italy. The other members on the Board are from Italy, Holland, France, United States, Rumania, Hungary, Germany and Algeria. The Academy is sponsoring major international art exhibitions, research, scientific conferences, and works of literature. Professor Wohlfarth received the Gold Medal of the Academy in 1974 in recognition of his work in art.

Aqua-Precept Workshops

The Edmonton Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is sponsoring Aqua-Precept workshops on 9, 10, and 11 March at the Glenrose Hospital. The workshops will be given by Wendy Campbell, founder and director of Aqua-Precept. The sessions will include practical demonstrations in the pool and gymnasium. The goals of Aqua-Precept are to build esteem through positive reinforcement, to bridge motor development gaps, and to teach swimming skills. The fee for the workshop is $25. For further information, telephone 426-5965.

NASA Curling Bonspiel

The Non-Academic Staff Association is holding a mixed curling bonspiel (two men and two women) on 10 and 11 March in the Students' Union Building Curling Rink. The entry fee is $40 per rink. For further information contact Ann Campbell, telephone 432-4578.

Association of Administrative Assistants Meeting

The next meeting of the Association of Administrative Assistants will be held at 11 a.m. in the Rundle Room of the Four Seasons Hotel. There will be a buffet-style breakfast ($5.20 per person plus 15 percent gratuity). For further information contact Joan Shore, telephone 432-3499, or Jacque Lemieux, telephone 466-2196.
